DEPARTMENT OF ARCHITECTURE Assistant/Associate Professor in History of Architecture and Urbanism

The Department of Architecture in the College of Architecture, Art, and Planning at Cornell University invites applications for a full time tenure-track or tenured position in the History of Architecture and Urbanism at the Assistant or Associate Professor level. We seek an innovative scholar and teacher with expertise in modernisms within a global context. The successful candidate will participate in and contribute to an architectural curriculum that offers B.Arch., M.Arch., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees.

Applicants should have a Ph.D. in hand, scholarly publications, and teaching experience. Responsibilities will include teaching at undergraduate and graduate levels, research, advising, and administration. Rank and salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Required Application Materials:

1. a one-page letter of application
2. a curriculum vitae
3. a one- to two-page statement outlining teaching and scholarship objectives
4. examples of scholarly and/or professional work
5. a list of three references with telephone and fax numbers, mailing addresses, and email addresses

All applicants should submit these materials in both hard-copy and digital format (see postal and e-mail addresses below). Please note that hard-copy application materials will not be returned.
